and Told
By The Editor

Upon the suggestion of Hon. W. B. Nichols, we are publishing on the back page, The Star-Spangled Banner. After seeking among many people to find even one who could recite this anthem, he concluded that few people know it. We suggest that people learn to recite this almost sacred song.

Congratulations to our Baptist brethren upon the completion of their splendid new church. The gentlemen and ladies chartered with the duties of buying land, material, and furnishings saw to it that the money was spent to the best possible advantage. They could not have done better if they had been handling their own affairs. The architects, too, are to be congratulated upon splendid plans, and the contractors upon splendid execution of those plans.

Jack Dale, editor of The North Mississippi Herald, certainly did do some editing of himself in his recent editorial, reproduced herein.

When I go out to see the old lady at the hospital I make her get up and sit in a chair, while I take a nap on the cot.

Pending the return of her own ability to thank the people, the old lady asked me to thank all of the "sweet ones," the friends for flowers, cards, calls and visits, and the doctors for kindly treatment.

I recently learned a good, expensive lesson: that Social Security payments must be made even if you have but one employee. Like many people still think, I thought that I had to have eight employees. Gene Fly's boys taught me different, although I am bound to say that I asked for it. Well, I got it.

Congratulations to GHS's debaters.

We people who have boys in uniform would feel better about it if the government drafted the striking workers in defense industries? Why should workers in vital industries be pampered and coddled (and paid ten to fifteen dollars per day) when other citizens (the boys in the army) work for a dollar a day and have to like it.

I do not believe that any healthy young man without dependents and within the age limits is a damn sight better than my son is and than I was. He, having no excuse, marched up and volunteered. In 1917 I, having no excuse, marched up and volunteered.

We believe that Wendell Willkie has shown better spirit than any political loser we ever heard of. Those who voted for this man have no reason to be ashamed of their choice.

Dear Dr. Walker: I will be up there as soon as the old lady gets on her feet.

What will it avail the CIO and other labor organizations if they gain their points, but cause such delay in defense industries that the freedom of all is lost? Why should one citizen risk his life in war at a dollar a day, and another citizen who is already receiving large wages stop production of munitions? Every damn one of the strikers should be drafted and put to work at a dollar a day. Our chicken-hearted congressmen who are pampering these strikers, and who refuse to do something drastic about it, will be responsible for any calamity that befalls this country, should England fail to hold the line.

Jackson is a fine city but it has a damn poor mail service. We sent a Special Delivery letter to Jackson on No. 3, arriving there about 2:15; it was delivered at 5 o'clock. We mailed a postal card and a large envelope destined to a firm in Jackson Monday. The postal card was delivered Tuesday morning, the large envelope was delivered Wednesday morning. These are just two very recent examples. Unless there is improvement, we are going to transfer our little business to Memphis, where there is efficient postal service.

My old hospital friend, Herbert B. Allen, who contributed many interesting articles and poems to the GCW, stopped over in Grenada between 7 and 10:30 Sunday evening, to renew acquaintance with me. I sincerely wish that everyone in Grenada could have met and talked with this very interesting and intelligent man.

War is not turning out to be the monkey business that many of us Americans thought it would. It is serious business when we see the cream of our young manhood leaving for camp.

J. M. "Buck" Grantham Died In Country Home Sunday

Mr. J. M. "Buck" Grantham, one of the finest citizens of the area south of Duck Hill in Carroll county passed away Sunday, February 3, 1941. He was born in 1875 and therefore 63 years of age. He was a tower of strength for good citizenship in his community and was often consulted by his friends and neighbors. He was a member of the Baptist church of Duck Hill. He was a man of wide influence, and so well thought of that his people honored him as their representative in Jackson during the Connor administration, where he increased the scope of his good influence as well as extended his acquaintance to the state's limits.

He was buried at Calvary church on Monday, February 3, with Rev. Thomas of Duck Hill, and Rev. E. R. Henderson of Grenada, in charge of the services.

Surviving him are his wife, the former Miss Mattie Nail, and four children: Mr. J. O. Grantham, of Grenada; Mrs. Minnie Wood, of Oakland; Mrs. Barlow Lancaster, of Lexington; and Mrs. Colin Campbell, of Duck Hill.

To the bereaved members of this splendid man's family, we extend our sincere sympathy.

Farm Bureau Membership Committee Meets

The Farm Bureau Membership Committee held a leadership meeting at the Barlow Hotel last Friday. A banquet and picture show of "Southern Agriculture" were held through the courtesy of Mr. J. S. Barrentine, Sales Representative of the Barrett Fertilizer Company.

Farm leaders attending the meeting were: Hubert Clark, E. C. Hayward, J. B. Keeton, J. C. Nail, E. L. Roteler, Groce Carver, A. W. Mullen, Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Holman, Mrs. S. E. Gill, Mrs. H. V. Phillips, F. B. Dunan, J. W. Wood, M. S. Tilghman and J. M. Purdie.

Excellent progress was reported. Our Farm Bureau Membership campaign and plans were made to attract the county goal of 300 farm families.

Mr. J. S. Vanaliver, State Superintendent of Education, addressed the meeting and assured the leaders that the Department of Education was co-operating with the State Farm Bureau.

The County Farm Bureau agreed to render assistance in creating a "Soil Conservation District" in our county to assist our farmers in their soil conservation programs. Under the District plan our farmers may receive the assistance of our State and Federal Governments in soil analysis, soil mapping, planning crop rotation systems, reforestation, gully control, terracing, etc.

Representatives of the State Soil Conservation Committee will hold a "hearing" for Grenada County farmers on February 21 to determine the practicability of organizing a District in Grenada County.

Meeting At Rosebloom

Rev. Eckels, returned Missionary from Japan will speak at Rosebloom on February 9th, morning and night.

Rev. Eckels has had several years of service in Japan. The public is invited to attend.

Mrs. Jeanie H. Wright, 75, Died Here Sunday

Death ended the career of Mrs. Jeanie H. Wright in her home in Grenada Sunday morning, February 2, 1941. A case of pneumonia no doubt hastened the end though she had been an invalid for several years following a stroke of paralysis.

She was a life-long resident of Grenada having been born in Grenada on January 8, 1866. She was one of the children of Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. Hightower, natives of Scotland. She received her education here in Grenada, and it was in the old Presbyterian church of this city that she and the late Mr. William B. "Toke" Wright were married on February 14, 1889. Her husband died on February 6, 1905, leaving "Miss Jeanie" as all her friends called her, with five little sons to rear. Shouldering this responsibility that fate had thrust upon her with dignified courage and resourcefulness, she performed a task that should be a model for every American.

Especially in this issue will be found excellent editorial in an editorial published about "Miss" Jeanie in our newspaper on December 20, 1938. We are happy to know that at that time her eyes were able to see and her mind able to comprehend and appreciate the editorial.

Being a life-long member of the Presbyterian Church the services were held in that church Monday afternoon, and following that interment was had in Odd Fellows' cemetery.

Palbearers were Messrs. R. Schmes, Whyte Whitaker, Roy Don, John Nicholas, John Bradley and Andrew Carothers. The profession of beautiful flowers, some of which came in the next day, were quite representative of the memory of this excellent woman, but also to high esteem her departed sons are held in their respective communities.

Surviving her are five sons: John of Carbonate, Robert of Memphis, William of Grenada, Donald of Mobile, and Virgil of Grenada. One brother, Mr. John Hightower of Memphis and his sister, Mrs. Annie McDonald of Greenwood, also survive. Two of her nephews, Messrs. Keene and John Huffington, live in Grenada.

To the sorrowful ones we extend our sympathy.

Report Of Grand Jury January, 1941 Term

To Honorable John F. Allen, Circuit Judge.

We, the Grand Jury, duly elected, chosen, equipped, sworn and charged to inquire into and for Grenada County at the January, 1941 Term of the Circuit Court of said county, and being required by law to make report to your Honor, beg leave to submit the following report, to-wit:

We have been in session three days; have examined 50 witnesses relative to 25 separate matters and have voted and returned 15 indictments into open court.

We have visited and inspected the public property of the County, to-wit: the public school buildings, the county home for the paupers, the court house and the county jail. We find all these buildings in good condition and state of repair, and we find that they are being properly protected and cared for. We find the paupers well treated. It seems that the county prisoners are receiving proper treatment.

We have examined the county officers as to the manner in which they keep their books and records. We find that they are well and properly kept, and as far as we can determine all monies have been properly accounted for.

We appreciate and thank Your Honor for the above charges delivered to us on the foregoing of this court, and we thank the Clerk, the Sheriff and his deputies for their promptness in their services to the Grand Jury.

And now, having concluded our labors and rendered this report, we beg to be finally discharged.

Respectfully submitted,
Guy James, Foreman
Franklin Ingram,
G. A. Nail, Clerks

Malaria Control Started Again

Mr. George Knapp, Foreman of the Malaria Control project, reports that that project resumed Monday morning, and will begin on the ditch which leads generally from the new cemetery to intersect with the Hoffa ditch. This project has an average pay roll of about $1000.00.

The government agencies want a hell of a lot of free publicity, but to our knowledge, they have never paid for a damn thing published, nor have they ever had anything printed by country printers.

Beware Of The Greeks Bearing Gifts

Beware of the Greeks bearing gifts. Beware of those coming from afar, and living luxuriously at the best hotels, who profess to come to help you and to better your conditions. The Greeks came not to help, but to destroy or to further their own nests. The two fellows, coming from afar, and living luxuriously at the expense of our best hotels, did not come to Grenada to help the young men and women employed at our local hosiery industry, but to create dissatisfaction among those who have every reason to be satisfied; to organize some kind of union, the cream of which would go to the organizers.

Those two individuals have left Grenada. They accomplished nothing, but perhaps that of planting a seed of dissatisfaction here and there among our boys and girls. Fear not, others will come. The Greeks whose first gifts were refused with disdain, come back again and again with other gifts. Other organizers, each with a different tale and a different approach, will return to Grenada.

We have known many of the boys and girls at the hosiery mill since they were kids. Others we know only as sons and daughters of our friends; some we know not at all. But we do know that, by and large, the individual boy and girl working there is doing better there than he could have done elsewhere, and still stay near home. Were it not for the opportunity of finding for employment there, and of course for the individual's natural ability which has been given opportunity of expression there, that individual might be back in Carroll county or East Ford or at Big Creek working on "luffs" with his father and earning for his year's labor the half of two dollars of cotton and a couple of loads of corn or he might be working fifteen hours a day at a filling station for $8.00 a week; or he might be hawking and still living "on papa and mama".

As a result of work there at fair pay and for legally established hours, some individuals have been able to marry and buy homes; others have been able to educate younger brothers and sisters; others to create sizable saving accounts. These thirty-ones who have applied themselves and have not tried to raise their standards of living too rapidly, and beyond their financial ability, have grown up and will continue to benefit. Unfortunately, however, this rapid advance in earnings, far beyond the reasonable expectations of the yesterday, has been a means of creating among many misguided employees even greater desires than even the expanded earnings permit. Upon this element agitators and organizers find most fertile fields to sow their seeds of discord. In short, some of these boys, like men of much more mature years, "can not stand prosperity". The more they have the more they want, even if they are "bitching" for better than they could do elsewhere near home.

The recent attempt to organize was frustrated largely by the sober-minded, clear-headed employees who had sense enough to let well enough alone. Many of them were ready to live a rail mile out of town to the organizers. This majority knows that the government fixes minimum wages and maximum hours; this majority knows that, if the group were fully organized, it could only demand greater pay and they have sense enough to know that greater pay might raise operating expenses beyond the point that the owners could receive profit, at which point ALL work would cease. This majority knew if it were fully organized it could strike, but also knew that that too would mean temporary cessation of pay, and ultimate abandonment of the plant. They knew that the goose that was and is laying the golden eggs could be killed, and that quickly. So far, the sober-minded, clear-thinking employees and their ideas of letting well enough alone have prevailed.

This attempt at organization for selfish ends of the organizers was, as stated, frustrated; but organizers, clothed in other garments and bearing other "gifts" will return again and again. THIS is too kind a field for the organizers and the agitators to abandon with just one failure. There are too many easily led young employees, and too golden prospects for easy initiation fees and dues to forego just because the initial attempt proved fruitless.

No one will deny that in an organization so large as the one here there are not cases where individuals have real grounds for grievances, even though we sincerely believe that the fixed policy of the management is that of impartial justice to all. Organizers would ferret out sources of complaint, and would not only exaggerate minor complaints but would create complaints from pure fiction - just to justify their own salaries coming from the dues. An inspector would lose his job if he found nothing to criticize. An organizer would lose out unless he found (or fabricated) grievances.

Admittedly, there may be just causes for complaint. In such a large organization, it would be truly remarkable if there were not such just causes. It has been suggested, and we commend the suggestion that a small committee, named by the employees themselves, and composed of several of their own number and several outstanding men of Grenada be named to act as a conciliation committee, advisory committee, employee's council - or call it what you will - whose duty it would be to seek to reach amiable adjustment of real and fancied grievances between employee and management.

We believe that the boys and girls at the hosiery mill will fully approve this idea. What do they know of the motives of these fellows sent in here from the North, except they are bound to know that the motives, however skillfully concealed, are selfish? But they do know that a committee of their own number and of unselfish and patriotic citizens of their own community will not act selfishly. The employees are bound to know that this "outside organizing" will cost them money, while such a committee as suggested will serve without cost to them.

People of Grenada have a great stake in the hosiery mill. Not only have they invested over $50,000, but the welfare of many of their children and of their friends' children are at stake. Many people, visualizing conditions that they had seen or read of in strike-ridden communities, had a horror of Grenada becoming a "mill town". At present Grenada is NOT a "mill town", but let organizers and breeders of discontent and dissatisfaction get control, to call strikes at will, we WILL be a "mill town".

Most of the employees there are young people. Each of them received employment there upon the recommendation of SOME ONE who, in a sense, vouched for this young person. THIS SOME ONE should advise with the individual or individuals he recommended and vouched for, and advise that individual or those individuals to "Beware of Greeks Bearing Gifts", and to let well enough alone. On the other hand the young employee should listen to his or her sponsor, and should heed his or her words of wisdom coming from one having greater experience and less illusions.

Benefit From Food Stamp Plan

In Union, Chickasaw and Pontotoc counties details have been worked out to comply with all the requirements of the Department of Agriculture to install the Food Stamp Plan. In these counties the county and city officials, bankers and merchants have banded together to insure the success of the plan and to bring to their people the numerous benefits that this unique plan has showered upon other communities where it has been in operation for some time.

Lafayette county has talked about the plan and discussed to some extent the requirements necessary to bring its operation here but at the rate we are going likely will be last in the state to get in on the benefits.

The food stamp plan, according to the Department of Agriculture, has three main objectives:

1. To aid American farmers by creating greater markets for domestic farm products.
2. To provide from 50 to 100 per cent increase in food purchasing power for families who are now receiving some form of public assistance, or (b) to increase the food consumption of those certified as eligible for relief, but who receive no cash assistance.
3. To distribute surplus foods through normal channels of trade, as an aid to all lines of business.

In brief, the food stamp plan is designed to increase the consumption of food, especially those agricultural items considered by the Department of Agriculture to be "in surplus" - glutting the low-price market and so giving the farmer a poor price for his products.

The use of bronze stamps which are purchased with blue free stamps greatly increases the purchasing power of low-income groups and brings about the desired stimulus in local trade. The whole community benefits and not just those to whom the stamps are distributed.

Unquestionably the food stamp plan would be a blessing to Lafayette county, but seemingly we are not willing to exert sufficient effort to become eligible for its benefits. Oxford Eagle.

Up In Yalobusha

In circuit court this week, a negro bootlegger who pleaded guilty to selling whiskey to local school children was fined $100 and costs and sentenced to thirty days in jail.

The jail term and $75 of the fine were suspended by Judge John M. Kuykendall.

Several other defendants, charged with selling whiskey to high school students, pleaded guilty and were fined by the court as a result of indictments brought by a grand jury that displayed real courage and initiative.

In each instance, thirty days jail sentences imposed by the court were suspended.

Selling whiskey openly, flagrantly and brazenly to school boys in early teen age did not involve, in these cases, a single prison sentence. In one instance, it cost only $25 and costs of court to sell liquor - upon the defendant's own admission - to a school boy.

A negro woman who snatched a purse was sentenced to one year in the penitentiary.

Does the grave crime of selling whiskey to school boys carry no greater penalty in Yalobusha county than a $25 fine?

If so, the Herald sincerely suggests that the county be spared the expense and the grand juries of the future the trouble of further investigations.

Do we have $25 justice in Yalobusha county? -North Mississippi Herald

A Damn Outrage

The average country newspaper could, if it would, fill its columns running over with free publicity sent out without postage by the various bureaus, committees, and authorities of the federal government; on top of that the "higher-up" government bureaucrats put pressure upon the little fellows here at home to have free publicity.

Our policy has been to throw every damn bit of this kind of stuff, unopened and irrespective of its possible value, into the orange crate that serves us as waste basket. Sometimes, we yield to the home fellows upon whom, we know, pressure has been put - and publish some of the stuff. Henceforth, we do not expect to publish a damn thing, whether it comes direct or thru local persons (on whom pressure for publicity has been put) which comes direct or indirect from these alphabetical organizations.

If the county, the city or the state have things which must be published, these local units of government pay us or pay other publishers the legal rate, or two cents per word. The federal government, throwing money away with both hands, night and day, however, expects its stuff to be carried free and, atop all that, expects three or four FREE copies of our paper to show publication.

Do not mail, send or bring us any of this damn stuff, for we are through with it.

We note two power trusters and Red Briscoe drinking coffee together - a bad sign.

After all, it seems that courts are for negroes and for poor, friendless white folk.

SUMMONS FOR NON-RESIDENT THE STATE OF MISSISSIPPI

To H. H. Collins, 211 Willford Street, Memphis, Tennessee:

Because the Private Electric Industry is ALREADY FULLY PREPARED

Over 300,000 miles of interconnected electric power lines - reaching every section of the country - from a nation-wide power network - READY NOW to turn the wheels of defense industry. Ninety per cent of this network is privately owned and operated. This "ELECTRIFIED" state of the nation is due to the principle of common ownership through holding companies - a common ownership that has made possible the interconnection of once isolated individual electric plants into efficient, coordinated power systems - READY NOW to meet National Defense needs. Uncle Sam can, therefore, spend ALL your defense dollars for guns, tanks, ships, planes, and other vital war materials. NOT ONE DOLLAR need be spent for power plants and lines - because the private electric industry, including Mississippi Power & Light Company, is ALREADY FULLY PREPARED.

"OZARK NIGHTS"

I love to roam the Ozarks
When the full moon's riding high,
And spangles like vast lanterns shine
Suspended in the sky.

Where times cast giant shadows
Down the slopes to shade the nest,
Of feathered little denizens
In deep nocturnal rest.

To rouse the owl's staid lethargy,
Provoking stern reproof,
For sacrilegious trespassing
Upon the mountain roof.

To breathe the pristine air and to Drink deep of waters pure, Pelted with DeSoto that I'll e'ermore endure.

To hear the whin-poor-wills delight
In this deep majesty, Proclaiming noble things to be
In mankind's destiny.

I love to roam the Ozarks
When all seems perplexity,
For God comes very close to earth
Communing there with me.

To my friend Mabel Whitaker, with earnest wishes for complete recovery.

Duck Hill Negroes Make Fortune In Policy Racket In Chicago

The following story, sent us by Mr. Mickie Clark, concerns the Jones negroes, born and reared east of Duck Hill on the Jones old place, appeared in the Chicago Tribune on January 31, 1941:

Edward P. Jones, 43 years old, was sentenced yesterday to serve 28 months in a federal penitentiary for evading federal income taxes on the fortune he and his brothers have made as kingpins in the south side negro policy racket.

Jones had pleaded guilty before Judge Philip L. Sullivan as part of an agreement reached last spring with the government in which he settled for $471,710 income tax claims which once amounted to more than $2,000,000 for the Jones family.

According to the agreement, charges of aiding and abetting Jones in his fraud were dismissed against the other Jones brothers, McKissack, McHenry and George P., and Thomas Gilson, a deputy revenue collector from 1929 to 1936, who served as their auditor.

The guilty plea by Edward P. Jones was entered on one of six counts in the indictment, charging evasion of $198,786 in taxes for 1938. (The original tax claims covered the years 1933 to 1938.) Jones was allowed until March 10 to arrange his affairs before leaving for prison. Jones lives with his brothers and mother, the widow of a Baptist preacher, at 4726 Michigan avenue. Their policy wheel was operated at 1711 Michigan.

A statement of the case against Jones, prepared by United States Attorney J. Albert Wolf, was read to the court by his assistant, John M. Kiely. It recited the following facts:

In 1918 Jones moved his family from Mississippi to Evansville, where they operated a taxicab business until 1922. For the next four years, the brothers worked as dining car stewards.

The elder brother then entered the policy racket in 1927. This racket is a lottery, popular on the south side, where bets of 1 cent to $1 can be made.

In 1929, after working as a policy writer, Jones opened his own policy wheel with a capital of $15,000. No books or records of any kind were kept, but from the family bank accounts the government estimated that by Dec. 31, 1938, the net worth of the family was $1,490,000. From 1931 thru 1938 the brothers' annual income rose from $56,779.83 to $322,127.34.

DUCK HILL TRASHES

Mrs. E. R. Campbell, with her aunt, Mrs. Matie Harding, of Calhoun City, spent the week with Mrs. Campbell's daughter, Mrs. Everette Hollingsworth, at Dunbar.

Misses Barbara and Nelson Kingsland returned to M. S. C. W. Thursday after spending several days with their father, Mrs. A. W. Kingsland, and aunt, Miss Mary Wilkins.

Col. Lloyd T. Binford was down from Memphis Wednesday, looking after his farming interest and seeing old friends.

Hon. S. E. Turner and wife, of North Carrollton, with their niece, Miss Martha Talbert, who makes her home with them and Mrs. Virginia Price of Carrollton, were distinguished visitors to Mrs. M. S. Walker Wednesday. If we were to say the many wonderful things we know and could say about these people we could fill this column and not get to say anything at all about any one else. The sweet and beautiful memories of happy days gone by come to us when we see Mrs. Price especially—young—romance—we attending her house-parties and she coming to ours. A party honoring her guests given at one of the other beautiful homes on Tece where the dance hall on the second floor extended the entire length of this colun-nal house and how Chief Ledore's handsomest grandson taught us to trip the light fantastic—those Presbyterians sure could dance. Memories, sweet, sweet memories.

Mr. A. L. Starks spent several days at Muscle Shoals, Ala., and reports that project as "going over big."

Mrs. E. W. Ellison, of Lexington, visited her parents, Rev. and Mrs. H.
N. McKibben during the week.

Mrs. Sam Wicker and children came from Forest and spent the week-end with her father, Mr. A. W. Moore and family.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Norwood, with their children, Bonnie, Olga and Frances, spent from Sunday to Monday in Ira Bann visiting the C. C. Tyler family and at Moorhead seeing their daughter, Grace, who is in school there.

Mrs. Annie Scott Anderson, of Aberdeen, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Anderson, of Grenada, and Mr. Henry Anderson, of Montgomery, Ala. were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Moore during the week. Mr. and Mrs. Moore and Mr.
and Mrs. Anderson accompanied Mrs.
Annie Scott Anderson to her home in Berdeen Sunday.

Miss Myrtle Moore spent several days visiting relatives and friends in Booneville this week.

Mr. Bob Milling and family, of Eu-port, spent Sunday with his mother, Mrs. D. N. Milling.

Rev. G. T. Sledge spent from Sunday to Wednesday in Memphis.

Little Frances Hankins is on the sick list this week—most everyone else is about to get back in school again.

Miss Jewell Nabors, of Eupora, spent Sunday with her sister, Mrs. F. Davis.

Children can say the cutest things—recently little "Sambo" Caruthers was visiting his grandmother, Mrs. S. S.
Caruthers, and she was entertaining him, talking about things she thought he liked and mentioned dogs, she told him she liked dogs herself, he looked at her most earnestly and remarked,
"you are supposed to like cats."

We have a prescription Dr. Caruthers gave us—raw carrots, peeling and all the said we could wash the dirt off.

We had to see Mr. and Mrs.
George Polines up and about again as well as many others, after quite a slog of the flu.

J. C. Sledge, Jr., was at home from State College and Everette Moore, Jr., was at home from Ole Miss several days, sick, returned to his school Tuesday.

We noticed some of our modern literature was camouflaged this past week; we wonder which one of those fat rascals did that—Mr. Horn or Mr. Greenfield, Our Editor says just as bad or worse.

MT. NEBO NEWS

Just about one year ago we got a message that our brother, Dr. Luther Burke, of Crowder, had died suddenly, and this morning we got a message that our nephew, Wm. Montgomery Burke and his wife, Mrs. W. M. Burke were instantly killed in a car wreck one mile west of Marion, Ark., on Highway 61. Their home was at Tupelo. We don't know full particulars yet.
It is with a sad heart that we attempt to write anything.

Palley Bates left this morning for Jackson, where he goes to work on government construction airport.

Hardy Carter goes to Memphis for a week's treatment at Dr. Gray's Clinic.

Cliff Clarke goes to Nashville to work at a federal project of some kind.

Mr. J. W. Brazil and family, of Futheyville, have moved into the vacant house on S at foot of Cole's Creek bridge.

We can only speak for Nebo, but the ground hog failed to see his shadow here.

We are sorry to note that Squire M.
O. Gray has a severe attack of flu.

T. W. Stagg and his son, Alton, made a business trip to Calhoun City today.

Sidney Clarke, son of Mr. and Mrs.
Harry Clarke, spent his vacation at home last week. He is a CCC boy stationed at Coffeeville.

We don't know whether it's best or not to pass the "lend-lease" bill, but a large majority of our congress say it is the only thing to do. It is a mystery to us why they put it off and fiddle, while freedom dimes.

Most all here think the Food Stamp Plan a good thing, but naturally puzzled to know why it should cost so much to hire people to administer it.

MORE COURTESY IN CHAPEL.

(An Editorial)

Recently our chapel period has been marred by unbecoming conduct on the parts of some of the students. Some little offenses can be overlooked but little things mount up to large things and these large things are undesirable. Some of the students have a habit of continually whispering and laughing while the services are being carried on. This is very annoying, not only to the person speaking but to those trying to listen.

From now on let's remember to remain quiet throughout the entire period, and thus be a credit to the student body.

YEARBOOK

The Grenada High School annual is to be the biggest and best ever put out by a Senior Class at G. H. S.

Already the advertisers are getting gratifying responses in their campaigning.

This year the pictures will be printed on both sides of the page; there will be no mimeographing; the pages will be larger; the paper will be that used by the best magazines, and the book itself will be composed on a completely different plan from any heretofore used in the Grenada High yearbook.

The generous response with which the townfolk have received the advertising committee points with promise to an exceptional success for the 1941 "Bulldog".

NOTE From Editor of the GCW: we will be two to one that no local printer or publisher will get a "smell" at publishing this yearbook, even tho the local publishers give unstinted space to school activities and the other printer has been most generous in doing work, either free or at nominal cost, for the school.

SONG OF THE ADVERTISER

My heart first leaps then settles
My shoes are getting thin.
My feet are stung by nettles,
My mouth has lost its grin.
My legs are tired from walking,
My headache's very bad,
My tongue is tired from talking
But oh! I got the ad!

GRENADA VS HOLCOMP

The basketball teams from Grenada and Holcomb played here at the gymnasium Tuesday night. The H. H. S. girls and the Grenada girls tied with a score of 30 to 30. The G. H. S. boys won over the H. H. S. boys 23 to 17.

Thursday night Duck Hill's girls and boys came to Grenada to play their third engagement with Grenada for this season. The score was: Duck Hill girls, 25, GHS girls 15; GHS boys 30, Duck Hill boys, 24.

GLEE CLUB NEWS

In order that the G. H. S. Glee Club make a good rating at field meet, Miss Donaldson has begun work on the contest pieces. It has been decided that the mixed chorus will sing "I hear a forest singing."

This year the quartet will be all girls and will sing "The Nightingale." Since the group did not win first place last year, they are determined to "shine" every chorus group in this district.

GRENADA SCHOOL CHILDREN IN NATIONAL DEFENSE PARADE

Grenada school children made up a large part of the National Defense parade staged by the American Legion on last Monday. The parade formed in the front of the high school, each class in a separate unit. The parade was led by Parade Master John Rufus Perry, who was mounted on a prancing stallion. Following was Well's sound truck giving forth the strains of "God Bless America". An ambulance with nurses, the American Legion, the high school band, the Boy Scouts, the Girl Reserves, the school grades, and then several units of the W. R. A. followed.

The parade moved to the square, at which place a talk by Hon. Chas. C. Andrews was heartily applauded and several band numbers were given.

Mr. Rundle presided at the microphone on the square.

TEAMS ENTER PRACTICE DEBATE

On February 20, the Drew Debate team visited Grenada Debate team in preliminary debates. Betty Jane Boyd and James Elson Lott of Drew, argued the affirmative of the question: Resolved That the Powers of the Federal Government Should Be Increased. Thomas Bell and Ed McCormack were Grenada's negative speakers. Betty Jane Boyd gave her rebuttal. This debate made one of the most interesting chapel programs of this year. This followed the first practice debate in which Grenada's second affirmative team, Benton Keeton, and Bobby S. Weir, view with Drew's negative team at Drew.

WASTE BASKET

By special report we hear that there is more to this Chapin-Wyatt romance than meets the eye.

Why is Mary Moore Juchheim the envy of all girls in Miss Owen's history class?

Nellie Joiner and Cliff Bailey seem to be progressing rather satisfactorily.

Jean Scott, Burt, Ruth Lee Morrow, Larry Noble and Bobby Townes certainly enjoyed themselves, or they should have enjoyed themselves Sunday. (What, why and where?)

Hardy is rather a popular place for a number of the members of the football and basketball teams.

"Bo" Rhett is the pride and joy of the Sophomores (female, no doubt).

Edgar Turnbush makes "goo-goo" eyes at Martha Johnson, Say, Turnbush can't have all the girls, can he?

Catherine Herring and James Elliott are still going strong.

Who is Mary E. Cowan's heart-throb now? She can't make up her mind.

L. D. Boone's attack is even worse this week that it was last.

Polly Richardson is looking forward with all eagerness to the 27th of February. But don't ask her, because Polly doesn't know why either.

Larry Noble was recently seen trespassing on Jack Cole's territory.

Romance on the rocks: Ruth Townes and a certain G. P.

Camilla Smith has changed her mind again. Is that why she and Mary Moore Juchheim are such good friends?

Don't my dirty reporters, Laverne Wilson and Mary Nell Rayburn, really dig up the dirt? If I don't suppress them they may take over.

"Mutt" Pate is very happy these days because "Buster" is coming soon.

Jackie and Grace were seizing the opportunity offered by the fact that Jackie's house is right across from the Barwin Hotel, where the soldier boys stopped Wednesday night.

Poor Billy Guy. Warmack went with the wind that swept through Grenada.

Benton Keeton and Tommy Houston, still, and a different girl.
